

Tumour size (Core)

Tumour diameter is a staging parameter.^{1,2}

Tumour diameter has historically been determined by clinical measurements. If that measurement is available, it should be reported as such. If clinical tumour diameter is unavailable, macroscopic and/or microscopic measurements should be used (largest diameter of tumour).

References

- 1 Amin MB, Edge SB and Greene FL et al (eds) (2017). AJCC Cancer Staging Manual. 8th ed., Springer, New York.
- 2 Brierley JD, Gospodarowicz MK and Wittekind C (eds) (2016). UICC TNM Classification of Malignant Tumours, 8th Edition, Wiley-Blackwell.